Kommentar

If we had a participant list a week before the retreat we could have arranged the trip there amongst us.
 Thank you very much for organizing this nice event.
 I would have liked a longer retreat but 2 days was also ok
 It would have been nice to see the information on slide 15 in the pdf to know in advance what are good starting points to work on in the retreat and to be able to set a goal beforehand.
 I wish the retreat would have been longer. I think it might be a good idea to encourage attendants to have manuscripts that they are working on to get the most out of the workshops and individual coaching sessions.
 I had a very good experience. The workshop about value and audience mostly covered things I had already heard in previous courses. It was a good start to the writing but could have perhaps be made shorter.
 For me, the purpose was to get started with the writing after a longer break from writing. I hope that a momentum started and that it now will be easier for me to write on my own.
 Thank you for organizing, it was fruitful for me.

Två Skyttlar was an excellent location for the retreat.
 Everything! Good teachers, good mix of participants from all University, very nice environment
 To be outside of the university and being in the nature and far away from the routine life was the best.
 Great location, good people
 Only having my own expectations in mind. This was allowed for me by having a calm place to only focus on writing for a couple of days and the "community" around it.
 The overall planning was very good.
 Really good planned
 I really enjoyed all the workshops and the coaching session because I learned a lot and was able to apply that in my text during the retreat. I was able to reach one of my goals of clarity in the text that I was working on.
 I worried that I would not be able to concentrate on writing when sitting in a room with others. To be fair, it was a bit distracting at first when people were moving around. However, it worked very well overall and the pressure of seeing others working made it easier to stick to it and get more writing done.
 Flexibility during the day with enough time to write and focus, but with a good amount of breaks so that we could interact with others as well. It felt very relaxed which helped with tackling the writing.
 Great schedule and great exchange with colleagues from different parts of the university.
 Being able to choose a place to sit which works for me. Being surrounded by others with same goal to get some writing done was very helpful. Also being in a different place made a big difference.
 I appreciated the flexibility to work in different locations within the nice facilities

The retreat could be longer.

The dinner could be earlier in the evening

I think more shut up& write sessions would be way more efficient regarding the efficient writing for us. Instead of two days three days could help us write more during the retreat.

A bit longer would have been nice

The dinner time was late and the planning to reach the retreat place could have been better.

Earlier dinner

one more day

Additional 0,5-1 days for just writing. Since I was attending for the first time I wanted to take advantage of all the workshops and coaching session that was available. So it felt I had too little time to work on the actual writing.

One extra day would have been good (but perhaps hard to schedule)

Dinner time could have been a little bit earlier. I also agree with others who said a communication tool to organise transportation would be good.

Dinner time was a bit too late in my opinion. I would have liked to be able to have a longer nights sleep to be as sharp as possible for the next day. I also think that a three-day retreat would be great to have more time for both workshops and writing.

I didn't have any issues. Perhaps the dinner could have been slightly more food, but the timing of dinner worked for me. The food was wonderful which I really appreciate.

Perhaps having some more targeted guidance (and information in advance) for what could be offered in the individual coaching sessions would be helpful to get the most out of a short time discussing with someone about your writing. I think most people thought the dinner was rather late.

Big thanks to Eva, Melina and Kalypto

I just would like to thank you again for organising this writing retreat and for the workshops/coaching sessions.

I hope for this type of activity again in the future. Also organized at the university would be interesting.

It could be nice to have such events scheduled at different times at the university and away, to make it easier for people to take part.
